About

I enjoy learning, exploring new ideas, and growing through new experiences. I have completed my B.Com and am currently pursuing my MCA alongside my professional career. In my free time, I enjoy technology, travelling, long walks, and cooking. I value mutual respect, honesty, and understanding. I hope to build a meaningful relationship with a kind and loyal life partner, sharing life's experiences and supporting each other's growth.

Family

My family is originally from Madhubani, Bihar. My father is a farmer, and my mother is a homemaker. We are five siblings in total, including me, and all my siblings are married. I believe honesty, mutual respect, and understanding are important in family relationships.
